

SS Research Salon Series: In Pursuit of Interdisciplinarity

Research Salon Series marks one of SS's activities to boost research environment. The Research Salons are designed to be intellectual discussions moderated by a faculty member. The Research Salons will be held on a monthly to bimonthly basis during 12:00nn – 1:00pm on a weekday. Discussions will begin with a faculty member's presentation of a specific research topic, but will be extended to broaden interdisciplinary concerns and challenges. The Salons are open to the university community, but mainly involved are SS' colleagues and research students.

Light lunch with drink will be provided for SS faculty members and research students. Interested participants must make reservation via email (wingcho@cityu.edu.hk) at least 3 days prior to the salon date.

2018 Upcoming Events

OCT

Culture vs. the State? The "Save-my-mother-tongue" Protests in Guangzhou

Dr. HO Wing Chung

~ Sociology

NOV

Mixed Methods and Archival Research in Social Sciences

Dr. FUNG Sai Fu

~ Sociology

DEC

Hostility Intertwines: Women's Use of Force in intimate Relationship from the Voice of Chinese Women

Dr. CHOI Wai Man Anna

~ Social Work

~ Counseling

CALENDAR

2019 Upcoming Events

JAN

The Beauty of Dyadic Studies

Dr. YU Xiaonan Nancy

~Psychology

FEB

What Affects Social Workers' Judgment: Personal Experience, Professional Training and Practice Environment

Dr. KWAN Chi Kin

~Social Work

MAR

Using ERPs in Psycholinguistic Research: An introduction

Dr. WONG Wing Kuen

~Psychology

APR

Consumption of Protected Wildlife in Mainland China

Dr. WONG Rebecca Wing Yee

~Criminology

MAY

Developing Cultural Orientation Scales for Ethnic Minority Youth in Hong Kong

Dr. KIM Tae Yeun

~Social Work

