Maximum Study Period:	2.5 Years (full-time) / 5 Years (part-time/combined mode)
Mode of Programme:	Combined†
Minimum No. of Credits Required:	30
Medium of Instruction:	English

Programme Aims

The programme aims to train social science practitioners with sound knowledge in theories and practice to help people, organisations and communities develop innovative solutions, and to accomplish excellence in undertaking research in social sciences.

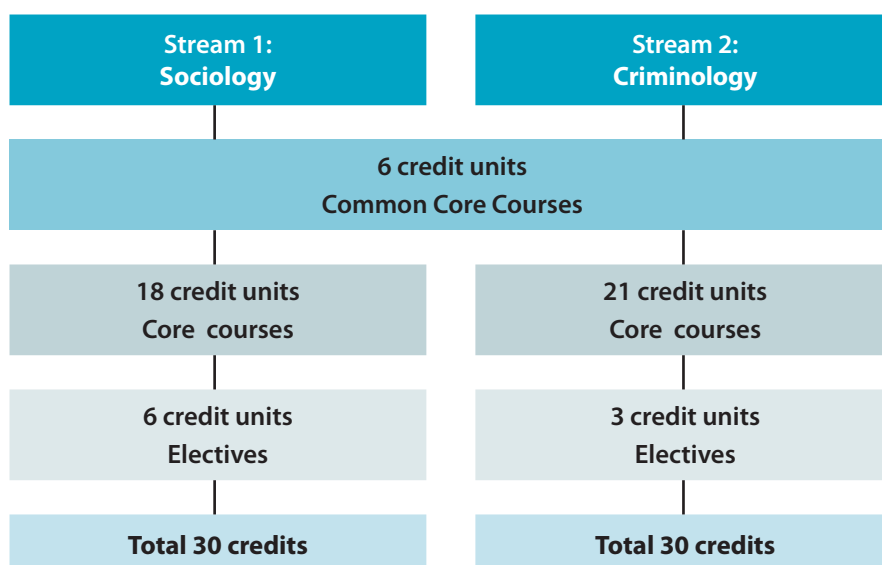

Programme Intended Learning Outcomes (PILOs):

On successful completion of the programme, students should be able to:

- ▶ evaluate major principles/theories in different disciplines in social sciences;
- ▶ demonstrate the ability to integrate major principles/theories in analysing social problems;
- ▶ demonstrate the ability to design and conduct research in social sciences; and
- ▶ devise innovative practices in social sciences to real-life problems.

Programme Profile

Master of Arts in Applied Social Sciences

Programme Features

- ▶ Students can decide on their own study path, schedule and load for each semester in order to complete the programme in 1 or 2 to 5 years. Such a flexible structure allows students to pace and plan their own study to best suit their personal and career development needs.
- ▶ MA degree with two main streams - 1) Sociology and 2) Criminology. Applicants are required to indicate the selected stream when submitting applications; and admitted students are not allowed a change of stream.
- ▶ The Stream courses will be taught by a strong team of experts from sociology, criminology, psychology, social work, counselling and psychology backgrounds. Students from various backgrounds also form circles to enrich synergy for effective learning.

Stream 1: Sociology

- ▶ Core courses provide a solid foundation on applied sociology theories and social research methodologies.
- ▶ "Integrative Project" is an opportunity for students to apply sociological theories, methods and ethics. The Project focuses on an actual problem or issue.
- ▶ Students can select any two electives from a list of courses in different fields.

Stream 2: Criminology

- ▶ The stream aims at training students in becoming competent researchers and/or practitioners at an advanced level in the key areas of policing and offender rehabilitation.

Entrance Requirements

To be eligible for admission, you must:

- ▶ hold a recognised bachelor's degree from one of the universities in Hong Kong or from any overseas institution recognised for this purpose by the University; or
- ▶ hold such other qualifications as deemed acceptable by the University as equivalent to the above.

Applicants whose entrance qualification is obtained from an institution where the medium of instruction is not English should also fulfill the following minimum English proficiency requirement:

- ▶ a score of 59 (revised paper-delivered test) or 79 (Internet-based test) on the Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL)[@]; or
- ▶ an overall band score of 6.5 in International English Language Testing System (IELTS)[@]; or
- ▶ a score of 450 of band 6 in the Chinese mainland's College English Test; or
- ▶ other equivalent qualifications.

[@] TOEFL and IELTS scores are considered valid for two years. Applicants are required to provide their English test results obtained within the two years preceding the commencement of the University's application period.

[#] Applicants are required to arrange for the Educational Testing Service (ETS) to send their TOEFL results directly to the University. The TOEFL institution code for CityU is 3401.

Programme Structure

There are no intermediate exits, students may obtain the MA degree by completing a total of 6 credit units of common core courses, and

- ▶ 18 credit units core courses and 6 credit units electives for "Sociology Stream" or
- ▶ 21 credit units core courses and 3 credit units electives for "Criminology Stream" or

Master of Social Sciences in Psychology

Programme Code:	MSSPSY (P76)
Normal Duration:	1 Year (full-time) / 2 Years (part-time/combined mode)
Maximum Study Period:	2 Years (full-time) / 5 Years (part-time/combined mode)
Mode of Programme:	Combined†
Minimum No. of Credits Required:	30
Medium of Instruction:	English

Programme Aims

This conversion program is designed to provide non-psychology degree holders with the knowledge, skills, exposure, and insights for (1) analyzing human behaviors from a psychological perspective, (2) developing research expertise in applying psychology to relevant settings, and (3) pursuing advanced professional training and a career in psychology and closely related areas. Upon completion of the program, students will be eligible to apply for graduate membership of the Hong Kong Psychological Society.

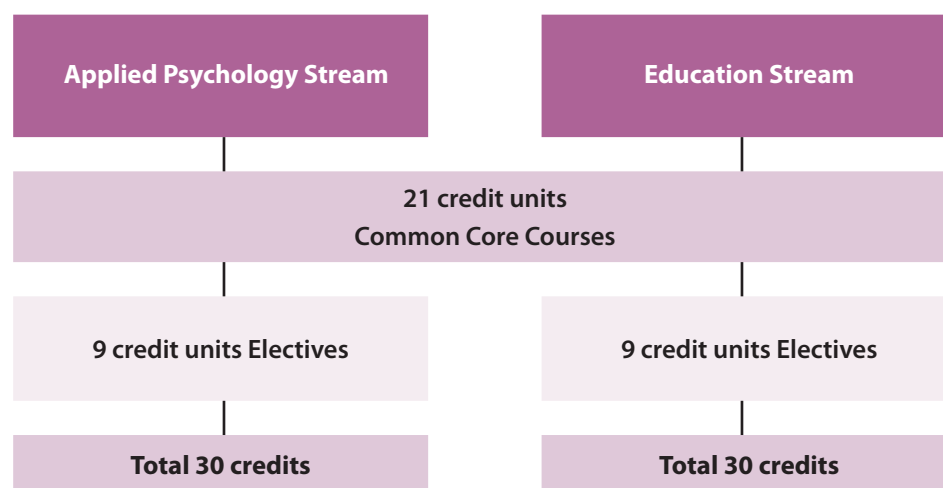

Programme Intended Learning Outcomes (PILOs):

Upon successful completion of this Programme, students should be able to:

- ▶ critically evaluate major principles/ theories in core areas of psychology
- ▶ apply major psychological theories/principles to analyze human behaviors in real life situations;
- ▶ critically evaluate research evidence published in psychological journals;
- ▶ design and carry out psychological research independently; and
- ▶ appreciate the close connection between psychology and everyday experiences.

Programme Profile

Master of Social Sciences in Psychology

Programme Features

- ▶ Designed primarily to provide degree-holders having no undergraduate training in psychology to pursue further study and a career in psychology.
- ▶ Focus on the cultivation of a distinctive blend of knowledge and skills relevant to advanced training and different careers in psychology.
- ▶ Multiple concentrations catering for different interests and career aspirations.
- ▶ Classes meet primarily on weekday evenings.
- ▶ Credit Transfer could be granted for equivalent level of study.

Entrance Requirements

To be eligible for admission, you must satisfy the General Entrance Requirements and:

- ▶ have a recognized bachelor's degree from one of the universities in Hong Kong or from any overseas institutions recognized for this purpose by the University;
- ▶ hold such other qualifications as deemed acceptable by the University as equivalent to the above; or
- ▶ have evidence of academic and professional attainments acceptable for this purpose by the University; AND
- ▶ provide documentary evidence that they have a) completed a course of introductory psychology offered by a recognized university or institution, or b) obtained relevant learning or working experiences related to psychology.

An introductory course in psychology is considered to be a course which is taught at the undergraduate level and (1) provides an overview of major topics in psychology such as biopsychology, perception, cognition, learning, motivation, emotion, intelligence, personality and social psychology, and (2) lasts at least for one semester.

Applicants who do not have previous experience in psychology may enroll in a make-up course to meet the admission requirement. For more details about the make-up course (SS1101 Basic Psychology), please read the Enrollment information: https://www.admo.cityu.edu.hk/exchange_visiting/visiting/info/. Applicants who plan to apply for admission to a particular academic year can enroll in the make-up course in the second semester of the preceding academic year or earlier. Application for enrolment in the make-up course usually starts at the end of the first semester of the preceding academic year.

Applicants whose entrance qualification is obtained from an institution where the medium of instruction is not English should also fulfill the following minimum English proficiency requirement:

- ▶ a score of 59 (revised paper-delivered test) or 79 (Internet-based test) on the Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL)[@]; or
- ▶ an overall band score of 6.5 in International English Language Testing System (IELTS)[@]; or

Student Profile

MSSC COHORT 2022 STUDENTS (73 NEW INTAKE STUDENTS)

Curriculum Highlight

SS5800 Counselling Theories and Practice

... to critically examine how selected counselling theories and therapy models are being used by practitioners in the context of exploring the positivist epistemology of counselling practice as revealed in the connection between theories and practice, and to make accurate case analyses and assessment on theoretical formulations. Then to devise an appropriate and specific counselling intervention for each individual. Integration of counselling theories and practice is highlighted.

SS6806 Counselling Practicum (part-time mode only)

... to provide practice-based instruction of knowledge, attitudes, and skills required for effective participation in the counselling profession with confidence. It is the culminating activity in the training of professional counsellors with the opportunity for students to apply, under professional support through group and individual supervisions, counselling theories and skills integrally in real-world practice.

SS6805 Project

... to provide hands-on experience in initiating, planning and implementing an independent research project with the view to foster disciplined thinking as a researcher and to develop the capacity for constructing counselling knowledge through empirical investigation.

Students may obtain the MSSC degree either by completing

- ▶ Path A - full-time mode in one year with taking Project; or
- ▶ Path B - part-time mode in two years with taking either Project or Counselling Practicum

Programme Structure

Programme curriculum is made up of (a) core courses; and (b) elective courses forming a "general electives" group, a "research methods" group, and a "specialised electives" group.

To graduate with the MSSC award, full-time students must complete the Project (two-semester course) in Semester B and Summer Term in their first year of study; for part-time students, to complete either the Counselling Practicum or the Project (both are two-semester courses) before the completion.

For Counselling Practicum, practicum sites for students to fulfill 120 clinical hours with 26 individual and 36 group supervision hours will be arranged in practicum practice.

Professional Accreditation

The MSSC programme has been accredited by the Hong Kong Professional Counselling Association (HKPCA) since 2011. All graduates after 2004 could be eligible to apply for a full membership at HKPCA.

In addition, our graduates who have completed the Counselling Practicum are eligible to run for Certified Counsellor. The HKPCA recognises all the 120 face-to-face direct client contact hours and 26 individual supervision hours as well as 36 group supervision hours. Therefore, these abovementioned MSSC graduates could pursue the status of "Certified Counsellor" after fulfilling the required post-master face-to-face direct client contact hours and supervision hours by HKPCA Approved Supervisor.

Furthermore, graduates in the practicum route can also be recognized for membership registration by the British Association for Counselling and Psychotherapy (BACP) in the United Kingdom and the Australian Counselling Association (ACA) in Australia.

Career Prospects

The programme is designed for graduates from diverse disciplinary backgrounds and supports continual professional development. It opens up career fields and enhances career advancement in human services (notably counselling, social work, and health care), education, and human resources management where sensitivity and effectiveness in working with people is an asset.

Tuition Fee:	Pay on credit unit basis HK$5,600 per credit

The MSW programme is a self-funded programme with the aim to train professionals qualifying for recognised social work qualification (RSW) at the Master's degree level. It aspires to train students becoming ethically-oriented social work practitioners being competent, reflective and good in professional practice.

On successful completion of the programme, students should be able to

- ▶ use appropriate knowledge, theories and demonstrate skills in social work in order to become competent and professional in their practice;
- ▶ reflect on their own practice so that they can intellectually construct, articulate and evaluate their own philosophy and practice in reference to social work values and ethics;
- ▶ demonstrate the ability to integrate theory in practice in an innovative way, discover and examine culturally relevant social work practice;
- ▶ evaluate professional activities and service programmes, changing social needs and advocacy for appropriate welfare reforms and service delivery.

Programme Features

- ▶ 2 years for the full-time MSW degree, with 1 concurrent placement in Year 2 Semester A and 1 block fieldwork placement in Year 2 Semester B (maximum study period: 5 years). Concurrent fieldwork placement is conducted in 17 weeks with 3 days per week or 6 sessions whereas block fieldwork placement is conducted in 10 weeks with 5 days per week;
- ▶ 3 years for the part-time MSW degree to students taking two concurrent fieldwork placements in Year 2 and 3 Semester A & B respectively (maximum study period: 7.5 years). Concurrent fieldwork placement in the part-time study mode is conducted in 25 weeks with 2 days per week or 4 sessions per week;
- ▶ The MSW programme consists of 15 core courses amounting to 49 credits plus another 2 electives carrying 6 credits, making a total of 55 credit-units in the programme;
- ▶ 900 fieldwork training hours (800 hours direct fieldwork placements plus 100 hours placement preparation or related activities);
- ▶ Strengthening of the training in social work values and ethics, theories and practice to three courses emphasizing working with individuals and families, groups, community work and macro-level social work practice;
- ▶ Addition of human behavior and social environment course subject areas, and social sciences theories for social work to those students without a social sciences training background;
- ▶ Legal knowledge and perspectives for social workers; enhancing mental health training, practice-related electives and advocacy for social work students;
- ▶ Integrative Social Work Seminar to train students becoming competent, reflective and good in professional practice.

Programme Features

The curriculum of the year 1 of full-time 2 years mode and the year 1 and year 2 of part-time 3 years mode aspires to train students with ethical principles and foundations of social work practice, social work values, and professional ethics, theories and practice skills in working with individual and families, groups and community, social welfare policies, social welfare management, legal issues for social workers and social work research methods. The curriculum of the year 2 of full-time 2 years mode and the year 2 and year 3 of part-time 3 years mode strives to equip students to have the required professional supervised fieldwork training hours and the 100-hour Practicum-related learning workshops, plus the study of Integrative Social Work Seminar and elective courses in practice-related social work practice settings: e.g. Assessment and Interventions in Mental Health Counselling, Cognitive-Behavioural Interventions, Group Counselling and Therapy, Counselling Children and Youth, Working with Families in Transition, Counselling Older Adults. Students who (1) are non-social sciences graduates, or (2) have taken either psychology or sociology but not the other, are required to complete non-credit bearing Social Sciences Workshops SS5115 Social Sciences Theories for Social Work*. Application

You can submit online application at <https://www.cityu.edu.hk/pg/taught-postgraduate-programmes/apply-now>

Application deadline may be extended depending on the number of applications received. However, priority will be given to the applicants who submit an application before the initial deadline.

Mode of Programme

† Combined mode: Local students taking programmes in combined mode can attend full-time (12-18 credit units per semester) or part-time (no more than 11 credit units per semester) study in different semesters without seeking approval from the University. For non-local students, they will be admitted to these programmes for either full-time or part-time studies. Non-local students must maintain the required credit load for their full-time or part-time studies and any changes will require approval from the University.
